

How to choose the correct Fender for your Boat

For every boat owner it is important to choose the correct Fenders according to the boat type and its length.

Choosing the correct size and number of fenders for the boat is essential in order to prevent potential damage caused by hitting another boat while docking or to the dock of the marina.

To help you choosing the correct fenders for your boat, we have designed the following chart to make your decision easier:

Fenders Selection Chart

